How do we fill our days at Whitmer? We study for 40,320 minutes, we exercise for 10,080 minutes, and we relax for 18,900 minutes.

Our studies prepare us for the future. Our exercise keeps us physically fit. Our relaxation aids our physical and mental well-being.

We should not waste those precious minutes, for the hours of youth quickly pass and are never regained.

To a real swell

A MOMENT TO REFLECT

The sundial, an early symbol of time, gives Carol Stagg, Oracle Editor, and Mary Roberts, her associate, pause to think about the 1960 Oracle theme.

Time, that often fleeting but sometimes stationary aspect of life, cannot be captured nor held for long. The days that seem to go too slowly when studies and books are at hand, soon race along when graduation day approaches.

Time assumes an even greater importance this year in the history of Whitmer Senior High. With the opening of the new senior high in the fall of 1960, many traditions and symbols will pass to the new building.

Time is not to be grasped and held but to be made rich in memories, dreams, and fulfillment for Whitmer students.

Whitmer prior to the 1940 north wing addition.

TIME MARCHES ON

When John Wallace Whitmer High School first opened its doors in the fall of 1928, it had a faculty of ten members, a senior class of nineteen, and a curriculum of twenty subjects.

The tower with its imposing height, had not yet been added to the original building composed of the girls' gym and the classrooms in the south section. Six classrooms and the tower were added in 1931. In 1940 the north wing including the auditorium, the cafeteria, and the boys' gym was constructed. The social studies classrooms and the bookstore completed the building in 1956 as we know it today.

Our present building was meant to house 750 students. This year there are 1120 students being taught sixty-two subjects by forty-five teachers. Our new building which will open in the fall of 1960 can adequately take care of 2500 students.

Although we are looking forward to our school life in the new senior high building, we will always have affectionate memories of the old.

President Clyde Elder and Superintendent Homer S. Nightingale assist Gov. C. William O'Neill at ground breaking ceremonies while board members look on.

Mr. Davis points out location of the new cafeteria to Linda Dew and Fred Fisher.

7 HOURS OF ACTION

Waiting for the death bell.

All out for the monthly fire drill!

Get out there and fight!

We're with ya, team!

Finishing touches.

This won't hurt a bit.

Good luck, boys, good luck!

AS TIME GOES BY

Mrs. Irma Schlegel

Mrs. Irma Schlegel has been at Whitmer for thirty-one years. Among the subjects she has taught are American history, civics, economics, and physical education. She has been adviser for Y-Teens, Student Council, and the Bowling Club. In her spare time she enjoys reading and bowling.

Mrs. Vivian Bertram has taught at Whitmer for twenty-six years. Some of the subjects she has taught are English, algebra, and general math. She has been a class adviser and has supervised a bowling club. She spends her time grading papers and participating in church activities.

Mr. Donald Stacy has been teaching at Whitmer for thirty years. He has taught biology and physical education. He has coached track, football, basketball, and still coaches baseball. He started the annual circus in the school year 1930-1931.

A dreamy, dark-eyed damsel.

RAY NORRIS

I'm a peaceful, tame, and quiet man.

THOMAS OKOROWSKI

Tom's the finest there ever could be, on this point we'll all agree.

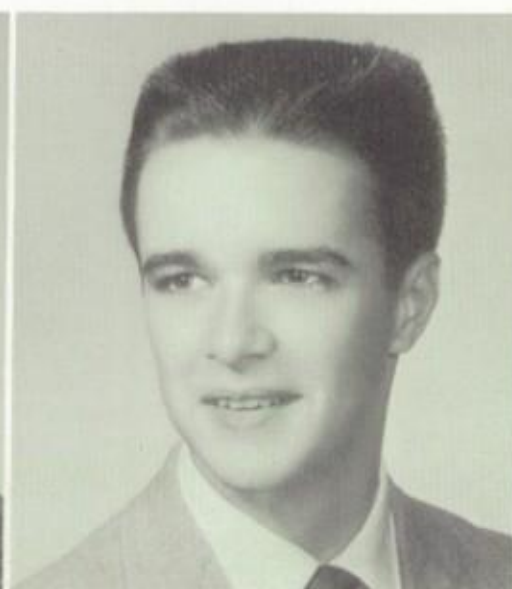

ROBERT OSTROSKY

J. W. Whitmer founded this school; I dum-founded it.

LYNN PARACHEK

A tall, quiet guy, easy going and a little shy.

JESS PARMER

Be silent and pass for a philosopher.

VICKI PARTEE

Facts are stubborn things.

MICHAEL PATTERSON

He is quiet and he's a riot.

KAREN PETTIBONE

All the world is a stage, and she has her place upon it.

GARY PFOTENBAUER

A willing helper does not wait until he's asked.

GARY PALM

A happy, helpful asset to our class.

DAVID PANCOAST

Super center on our football team, in track he's also on the beam.

PEGGY PAXTON

Her smile is like turning up a lamp.

FRED PEASE

There are two sides to every question; the wrong side and my side.

GARY PERTNER

Doing no mischief, only dreaming of it.

CAROL PETRUCHA

She never fails to please.

JUNE PHILLIPS

A smile for everyone she meets.

JOYCE POLSTON

Oh, if I could only grow.

SHERRIE POWERS

Happy as a lark.

JAN PUTNAM

An innocent appearance, but looks are deceiving.

Class of

MARGARET RALSTON
She's here. I heard her giggle.

JOHN RANKE
Long, lanky, and lovable.

A good-natured, well-liked girl.

SANDRA WENING
The incomparable.

JAMES WHITEMAN
With twinkling eyes and flashing smile, he led the band in snappy style.

JANET WHITMILL
What wisdom can you find that is greater than kindness.

DAVID WILLIAMS
Though words fail me, I can still smile.

NANCY WILLIAMS
I am sure cares are an enemy to life.

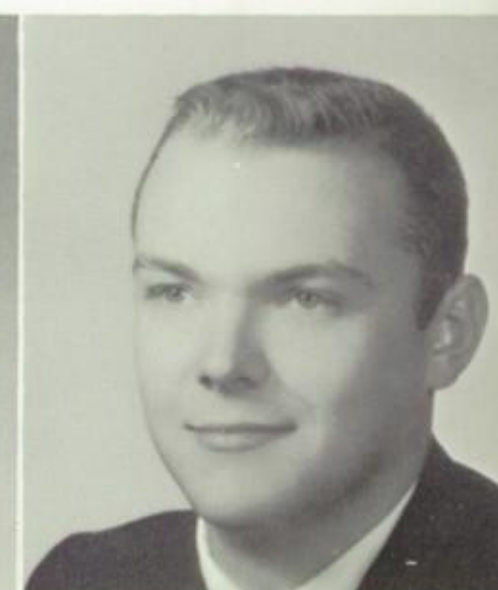

VIRGINIA WOODARD
The future I face, the past I have proved.

CHARLES YEAGER
Live all you can, it's a mistake not to.

MARTHA YINGLING
There is stardust in her eyes.

DALE ZATTAU
Not that I love studies less, but that I love fun more.

MARILYN WERR
She holds the key to fashions.

WILLIAM WHALEN
As good-natured a soul, that ever trod on shoe leather.

JAMES WHITAKER
He'll succeed in his own way

RICHARD WHITE
I am merry and glad, for no one will I be sad.

Classrooms

Kay Roberts, Jim Littrell, and Georgia Mockensturm work on a map of the United States for American history.

HISTORY

The goal of the history classes at Whitmer is to relate the past to the present. To memorize facts, is not the main objective of these classes, but to apply these facts to our modern world.

American history is the life story of our country, and the aim of the civics classes is to understand the functions of our national, state, and local governments. Contemporary history concerns historic events of our time, while world history pertains to the "old world" and its gifts.

Alan Kohn explains the details of the Federal Court System to Dorothy Arndt.

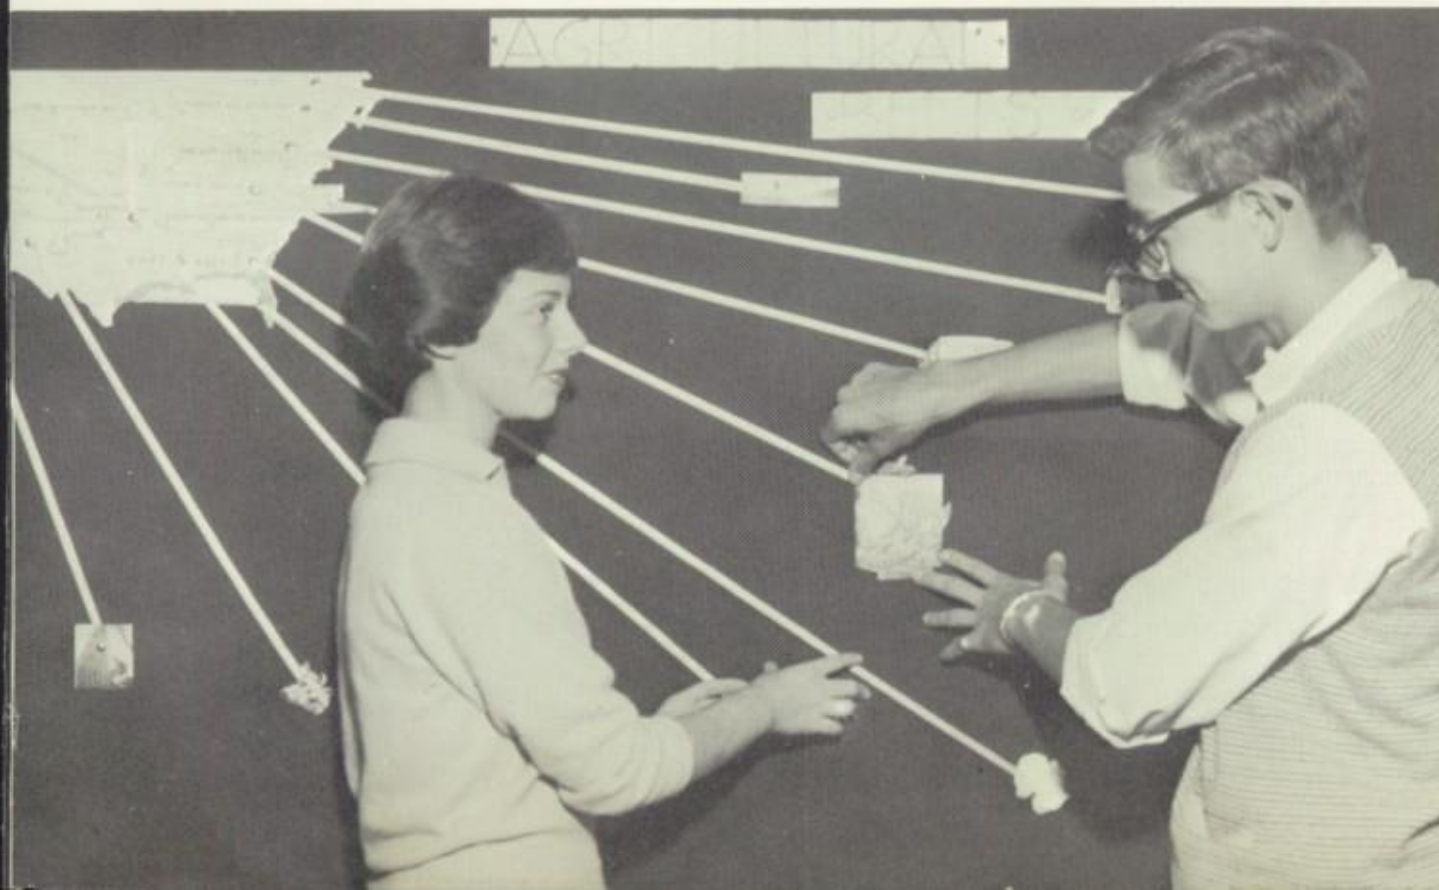

Claire Gutmann, Sandy Szczepanik, John Rice, Bill Luff, and Bonnie Lloyd participate in panel discussions in sociology class.

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the science of the origin and evolution of society. In the sociology classes at Whitmer this year, the students have taken part in many lively discussions, debating the "pros and cons" of our society.

GEOGRAPHY

Geography is one of the new subjects offered at Whitmer this year. It is concerned with the geographic features of our country and their effect on man and his industries.

Jean Bjork and Keith Aldridge discuss the agricultural developments of our country.

Don Reighard and Gayle Wingate explore new sights in chemistry.

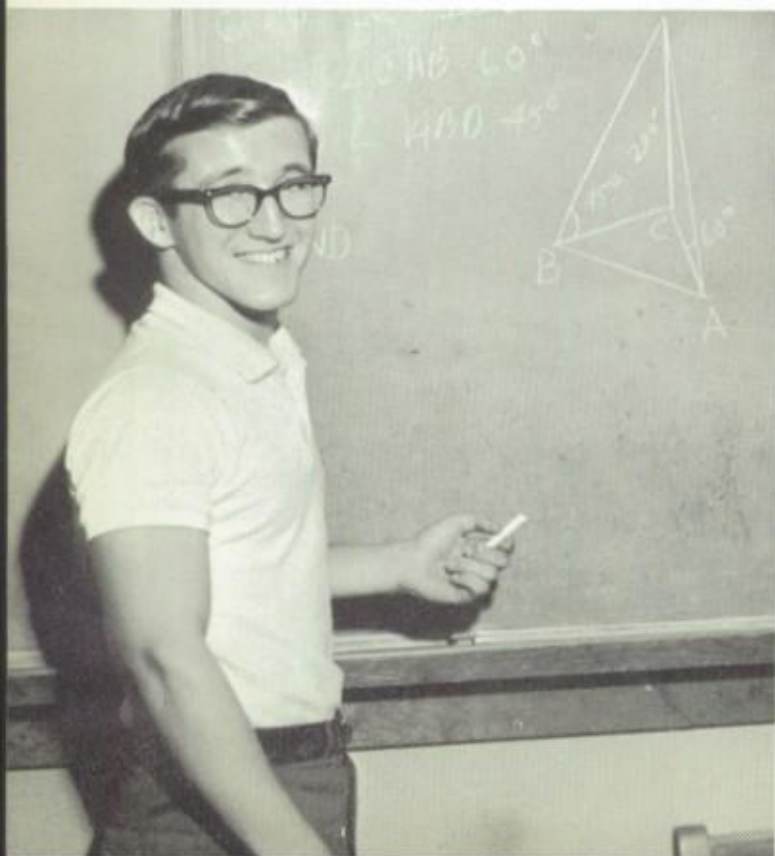

MATHEMATICS

$\sqrt{577^3} \times \sqrt{435^3} =$ Do you know how to work this problem? You don't? You should be taking a course in mathematics, such as advanced algebra, plane and solid geometry, or trigonometry.

The plane and solid geometry classes have to look at a problem from the "right angles" before they can understand it completely.

Advanced algebra, a prerequisite for trigonometry, deals with ratios and formulas, while in trigonometry this knowledge is put to use by solving for unknown distances and heights.

Dave Ansted finds the solution to a trig problem.

CHEMISTRY

Whitmer's chemistry classes have been busy all year "brewing" and "stewing" their laboratory experiments. This year emphasis was placed on exploratory chemistry, which allows the student to concoct his own compounds and solutions and to explain all the changes that take place. By using this method the student can acquaint himself with more chemicals and their behavior. Along with lab work, the classes had written lessons, discussions, and the ever-present tests

Dave Pancoast explains the value of the inclined plane to Ginny Woodard.

Judi Engler and Martha Kirchenbauer prepare slides for biology.

BIOLOGY

Biology is the science of all living things and the basis of most sciences. Practical biology offers the student a general background of the science while the college preparatory course gives a more detailed account, similar to college biology. Besides laboratory periods, dissections, and microscopic studies, where the students get the "inside story," they keep a notebook and make projects. The best projects are entered in the science fair at Bowling Green State University in the spring.

PHYSIOLOGY

Physiology deals with organisms and their parts and is a very good course for pre-med students or future nurses. Oscar, the physiology skeleton, who is a perfect example of human physique, helps the students learn the bones of the body. To understand the systems and muscles of the body, the classes dissect cats.

PHYSICS

The ancient Egyptians are thought to be the first to have known about physics, which is the study of force and energy and its effect on matter.

Today we are living in a modern world which opens physics up to the field of nuclear physics and atomic energy. The problem that confronts modern physicists is how to use atomic energy constructively not destructively.

The physics classes at Whitmer do not ponder this question in detail, but learn the basic fundamentals, such as molecular motion, mechanics, and electricity.

Who knows? One of our own "physicists" may come up with the answer to the atomic question.

Sally Warren points out the temporal bone to Nancy Wager.

TOP: Judy Lanz and Ron Stephan read Silas Marner for sophomore English. BOTTOM: Carol Mackall reads her essay to the class and awaits its criticism.

ENGLISH

Whitmer's "bookworms" were kept busy this year by reading some of the famous literary works of the world.

The sophomore English classes read William Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, while the juniors read Moby Dick by Herman Melville. To add to the understanding of the books each class saw the movie version of its book.

Macbeth and Hamlet were enjoyed by the senior English classes. Our seniors had to write numerous themes and also read many classical works as a steppingstone for college English.

COMPOSITION

If writing reports or essays comes easy to you, you should be taking composition and creative writing, two new courses offered to Whitmerites this year.

In composition the students begin with a thorough study of grammar. With these fundamentals they compose essays, reports, business letters, and term reports.

Emphasis in creative writing is placed on developing an original style. The teen "literary masters" read famous works and analyze the author's style so they can develop an effective style of their own.

Sue Day patiently waits while Karol Lindeman puts finishing touches on her make-up for speech class.

SPEECH

The teen orators at Whitmer have an excellent opportunity to display and develop their speaking ability. Our speech classes provide a place where the students can express their thoughts and views by means of giving talks. This year the students had to give bodily action speeches. For an added touch of humor the classes had to pantomime a record. A heckling session was another part of the speech activities in which members of the class heckled or distracted a speechmaker during his delivery of a speech.

FRENCH

"Parlez-vous Francais"? French is one of the new courses offered at Whitmer this year. The aim of the French course at Whitmer, as in all language courses, is to acquaint the student with the language as well as the culture behind it. The classes had many vocabulary tests, grammar exercises, and pronunciation drills. To add variety to the class the students read newspapers, in French, of course!

SPANISH

"Los muchachos y las muchachas" who are taking Spanish find the class "muy interesante." Along with learning how to read and write in Spanish, the students develop an appreciation for Spanish culture. This year the classes have written magazine and book reports plus many vocabulary tests and homework exercises. One of the aims of Spanish is to broaden our views concerning our Latin American friends. Adios!

TOP: Donna Hartley and Sue Myers conjugate verbs in first year French. BOTTOM: Ted Hahn and Sherrie Goodremont peek into a canasta.

"Salvet!" Latin, a requirement for many vocations, is a popular course at Whitmer. The first year of Latin is mainly concerned with Latin grammar and vocabulary, while the second year course deals with Caesar's Gallic Wars. A great deal of comparison is shown between English and Latin culture as Roman culture has a great influence on our modern world.

Judy Alford and Jim Weber are busy preparing themselves for the business world.

OFFICE PRACTICE

If you are constantly haunted by a tapping sound in your head, never fear! It is probably the office practice students punching out a timed writing. Office practice is an advanced typing course and supplements other business courses by teaching office duties, such as filing and reception work. It also helps to develop personal traits needed for secretarial and stenographic work.

TYPING

In 1888 the typewriter made its presence felt on the business world. Since then it has become an important influence in industry. Whitmer classes teach the students how to operate the machines quickly and accurately. Many make this class in typing a stepping stone toward a career in this modern business age.

Dianne Borman demonstrates her speed at typing.

Carol Deans points out the specific entry which belongs in the cash receipts to Bonnie Witherell.

BOOKKEEPING

Whitmer's bookkeeping classes are taught to record daily transactions, financial reports, and other records. The course prepares students to keep books for a small business or a professional man. They also get a taste of accounting and budgeting. Whitmerites who take this course should have no trouble at all in making their dollars stretch.

Elaine Lewis writes in shorthand, "Buy your year-book now!"

SHORTHAND

Those who don't take shorthand can't understand the "henscratchin'" but for the future secretaries at Whitmer, "little things mean a lot." Shorthand is short strokes in place of letters, and is a must for most office workers. In class they have many timed writings to test their skill in dictation. When a student reaches 80 words or more per minute, he receives a certificate to verify his accomplishment.

Alice Dirnberg, Beverly Smith, and Mary Ann Fellers demonstrate flower arrangements for home economics.

The home economics students this year have sent many tantalizing smells wafting through the halls. The saying, "Too many cooks spoil the broth" just isn't so in our homemaking classes. The girls work together and turn out some of the most delicious foods imaginable. In the spring when pretty, fashionable clothes are foremost in a young girl's mind, these students are making their own. This experience in handling patterns and fabrics adds the finishing touch to the homemaking year.

DRIVING

The sign may say "Curves Ahead" but no one who takes the driving course at Whitmer will be "thrown a curve." The students are trained in safe driving methods by actually driving in the new driver's training car. The enforcement of the traffic laws of Ohio was impressed upon the students by visiting a session of the local Traffic Court.

Jean Rule and Steve Saelzler prove they are capable of changing a tire.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The aim of the Industrial Arts Department at Whitmer is to train boys in the many phases of machine shop work which entails tool and die making and the basic fundamentals of engineering. The three courses offered concerning this work are woodshop, mechanical drawing, and trades and industry.

The mechanical drawing classes teach how to read and write the vocabulary of the industries. Woodshop teaches skill in the safe usage of power tools, while trades and industry gives the student a feeling of the atmosphere and duties of an actual machine shop.

DRAWING

Just a swish of the brush and the picture is finished. The Whitmer drawing classes have done it again, another masterpiece. Usually they design posters, do pencil sketchings or lettering, but this time they've outdone themselves. They used oil paint to perfection and their use of tempera was pure genius! Keep up the wonderful work, young Picassos!

Ken Urbanowski and Ron Sloan build a model house in woodshop.

Lona Betz and Randy Taylor put the finishing touches on their drawings.

Bev Blackburn and Judy Mohn begin the game with a 50 yard Bully.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The girls' gym classes started the year off just "bully" as shown by these girls playing hockey. Football and soccer were first on the agenda for the boys. In December, the boys began tumbling, but the girls could choose between tumbling and modern dancing. Tumbling activities learned by the students were used in the circus last spring.

Bill Regnier vaults over the parallel bars.

In the fall the boys have fun playing speedball.

CIR

Clowns, pachyderms, zebras, buffalo, tumblers, acrobats, and dancers all make up the color and excitement of Whitmer's annual circus.

Each year the acts display more skill and agility. The twenty-fourth circus had an array of unusual talent that thrilled the more than capacity crowds.

VICTORIOUS 1959 HOMECOMING

Whitmer's 1959 Homecoming was a tremendous success. Our GLL champion football team dumped Clay 18—6 before a near capacity crowd. Pre-game activity drew the spectators' interest as Kathy McMahon, a radiant, brown-eyed senior, was crowned 1959 Homecoming Queen. Her attendants were Sharon Keip, Peggy Paxton, and Mary Roberts. The exciting evening was climaxed by the annual "Royalty Ball" where Kathy and her court were honored.

PRINCE OF PEACE

This year the Prince of Peace Contest was headlined by Suzanne Day. Sue won in local, district, and state semi-finals, and she placed sixth in the final state competition in Columbus. The local contests were held on November first at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church and Trilby Methodist Church. Paul Wallace won at Good Shepherd while Sue Day won at Trilby. Kay Clausing and Sandy Pollman placed as alternates. This was the first time in the history of Whitmer that a Prince of Peace contestant received state honors.

CLASS OF "61" WINS TROPHY

SIDELINE QUARTERBACKS' NIGHT

On Sideline Quarterbacks' Night the long awaited time had come for each class of Whitmer High School to unveil its float.

The senior float, "Knight of Triumph," sported a large, green dragon on one wagon while the other carried a handsome knight in shining armor. The eyes, nose, and feet were lit on the dragon.

The junior float was also a double wagon with a beautiful Dutch scene. The caption read "Whitmer Netherlands in Dutch." One wagon held a tiny little windmill with a beautiful garden of tulips surrounding it. On the second wagon a boy and a girl stood in another garden. A small bridge connected the two wagons.

The sophomores were off to a great start with "I'cy Victory." Another two-wagon float, it pictured an Eskimo defeating a polar bear. In the background were icebergs and an ocean scene.

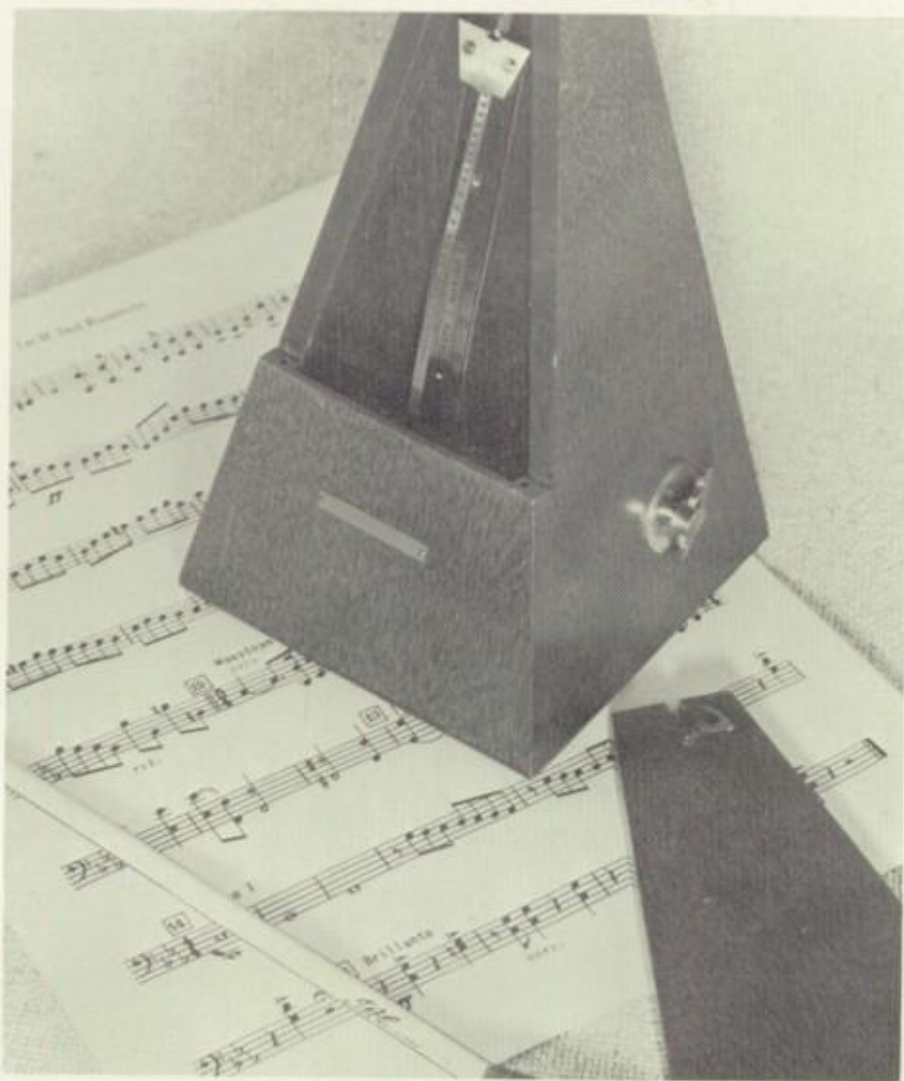

This year the judges awarded the 1959 trophy to "Whitmer Netherlands in Dutch." Congratulations go to all the classes for the hard work which was put into each float.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council may be considered one of the most important organizations at Whitmer because it is representative of the entire student body, it is a controlling factor in student activities, and is a link between students and faculty. Its objective is to promote good citizenship and team work in all phases of school life.

Student Council committees are many and varied. The members of these committees have charge of Hall Patrol, school announcements and elections, safety education, and clean-up campaigns. The service project committee sponsors the charity drives and the College Night program. The social committee takes care of the homecoming ceremonies and dance. This year the ways and means committee sold sweat shirts with the school emblem on them. An important and successful innovation sponsored by Student Council was a dress-up day the last day before the Christmas holidays.

STUDENT COURT INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Student Court is the judiciary department of Whitmer's student body. Its members issue summons to students for various offenses such as breaking into the lunch line or parking in restricted areas. Student Court is established for the good of the student body and the betterment of the school.

The Inter-Club Council is an organization made up of the presidents of all the clubs at Whitmer. Its primary objective is the improvement of the co-curricular activities program. This year the Council conducted an evaluation and suggestion program for club officers.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club is a newly organized club which has as its purpose the advancement of knowledge and interest in the problems facing our country today. Debate trains students in public speaking, note taking, clear thinking, and organizing. It gives them an opportunity to compete in interscholastic contests of an academic nature. Boys and girls participate on teams which debate both locally and state-wide.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The Biology Club is a new club at Whitmer this year and is a result of the division of the Science Club into two groups, the Jets and the Biology Club. The club was started to further an interest in all fields of biology. To become a member a student must be enrolled in biology or have taken the subject. The student must also enter an original project in the Bowling Green Science Fair.

The Biology Club's service project this year was the classification of the trees at the new school as to species and genesis. The club members went on several field trips, one to a stone laboratory where experiments on photo-synthesis and the life cycle of minute animals in water are conducted, and the other to Oak Openings. An interesting lecture on radio-activity was given to the club by Professor Verduin, chairman of the department of biology at Bowling Green State University.

JETS

Jets is the Whitmer Institute of Physical Sciences. The purpose of the Jets Club is to promote further interest in the physical sciences. A sophomore must be taking college preparatory biology to become a member. The qualifications for membership of a junior or senior are that he must be taking or have taken chemistry, physics, or physiology. All members must enter an original project in the Bowling Green Science Fair or spend ten hours on a club project. This year the club made a collection of the ores and oxides of metals for the science department and a gas law apparatus for the chemistry department.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR F. T. A.

The Future Teachers of America chapter at Whitmer has two divisions, junior and senior. Both have as their purpose the investigation of opportunities for teaching, the observation of everyday teaching routine, and actual participation in conducting classes. The members earn points toward an F.T.A. pin by assisting the assigned teachers in the daily routine of grading papers, washing boards, averaging grades, and serving as ushers at school functions. This year F.T.A. members took charge of the refreshments for a teachers' meeting. At the end of the school year a trophy is awarded to the member who has acquired the largest number of points.

F. B. L. A.

A local chapter of the national club, Future Business Leaders of America, was organized this fall at Whitmer. Any sophomore, junior, or senior who is enrolled in at least one business subject may be eligible for membership.

The members of this club strive to develop capability and confidence in business leadership. They try to encourage team-work and cooperation among the club members, to develop useful citizens, and to foster patriotism.

The club held a Christmas party at the home of one of its members as part of its social activities. At the beginning of the second semester club members took over management of the school bookstore as their service project.

F. H. A.

Future Homemakers of America, known as F.H.A., is a club for girls who have had at least one year of home economics. The purpose of the organization is to further the understanding of home economics and related career fields. As a money-making project, the members sold popcorn at the football games. Other chapter activities included initiation service,

F.H.A. week, spring banquet, and district meetings. Service projects included a Christmas basket for a needy family and parties for the orphans in the Lutheran Home. In state activities, two delegates were sent to the State Convention and two girls attended the F.H.A. camp at Muskingum, Ohio.

V. I. C.

Vocational Industries Club of Whitmer is one of the many chapters of this organization. To be a member of this club, a student must be enrolled in Trades and Industries and have passing grades.

One of the main purposes of this club is to provide opportunities for the development of leadership among its members. It also endeavors to create a deep interest in vocational industrial training, to promote high standards of workmanship and scholarship, and to understand as well as encourage the practice of conservation of time, money, and materials.

V.I.C. is one of the busiest clubs at Whitmer. The maintenance and repair of the auditorium seats by the club's members is one of the most important service projects in the school. This year the club sponsored a hay ride, a splash party, and a record hop as part of its social activities.

Sports

Dale Crow

The Dale Crow Memorial Trophy is awarded annually to an outstanding student and athlete. Dale Crow was a leader among students during his school days at Whitmer High. After an active career at the University of Toledo, he returned to Whitmer to teach. When World War II broke out, he joined the Navy to defend his country. Dale lost his life in a mission over Wake Island.

In 1959 Douglas Gladfelter was the recipient of the coveted Dale Crow Memorial Award. Now Doug is enrolled at the United States Military Academy at West Point where he is carrying a high academic average. Doug was co-Valedictorian and president of his class, vice-president of Honor Society, and a letterman in track, football, and wrestling. Doug's name has been engraved on a large trophy which is kept at Whitmer as a tribute to the recipients of this award, and he received a smaller trophy for himself.

Mary,
To a real swell
gal who I've only known this year.
It has really been a pleasure. Believe me. Remember all the fun we had going downtown and an awful lot of other things. I wish we could be in study hall again
next year but I guess
we won't get since you're now going to school and I'll probably be going to a different
one. Well, you're a real swell gal and stay that way. Don't forget where I live so come and see me this summer. Best of luck and May God Bless You Always.
Your friend

To Mary: One of my best friends. We've had lots of fun in the past year. Our friendship has grown to be something fantastic in the past 10 years. It sure seems like a long time. But the time has gone by so fast. But I know our friendship will grow and grow in the years to come.

ELECTRICITY

. . . a vital force in your future.

In the professions, in business and industry, in the home and on the farm versatile electricity will play an ever-increasing part in your life, because of this simple, economic fact:

You really get your money's worth when you spend it for electricity

Glass

Has Made

A Difference

Now is the time to reflect upon the "good ole' days" in school — the many friends, your favorite teachers, sports and dances and parties. But when looking at today's school architecture, we think you'll agree that glass has made a difference!

Here's picture-proof that school corridors don't have to be dark and dreary tunnels. No longer must walls be solid and opaque. Today, more attention is being paid to daylight and view.

When reflecting upon the advantages of this glass age, we think you'll agree that the "good new days" are better.

VARIETY SHOW

Mary -

Best of luck to a real cute girl. Always remember our rusty
office practice class and our talent for cheating on tests.

Don't you dare show
this to Miss Thompson.

God Bless you

Good luck with Eddie.  (engagement ring)

Love ya

Judy Cox

Mary,
I don't know exactly what to say so I'll just wish you + Eddie good luck in the future

Lots of love

Mary:
Go a real nut in
and how study hall.
Remember the lost pens, writing on the tables, slumber party,
etc. Best of luck especially with Eddie. Cheryl

Mary,

Hon, it's been so much fun since we've started hanging around with each other.

You're my very best friend, and it seems as though you're the only one I can talk to. All my problems would be so hard to stand if it wasn't for you.

I hope you realize how much I'll miss you after we go our separate ways. I wish our ways could be together, but with Ed and Vaughn having our hearts it would be hard.

I wish you all the happiness in the world.

I hope we'll always be as close as we are now.

Love,
"Little sis"

P.S.

I hope you & Ed will be happy!

Mary,
your really a great girl and I've enjoyed meeting you, so much! We sure have had some damn good times together, and I'm looking forward to this summer we can have on big riot! Lets have next year when school starts again we'll be good friends, and maybe even in Beauty College if you get to go!
your the best of everything. Be Good and "God Bless you" Be nice to Eddie, He must be sweet, you deserve the Best. Lots of luck, Love and Happiness!
